

and are quoted as stating that they are satisfied there will be no armed interference with their affairs.

No announcement has yet been made of a successor to Manuel Chaz de Aldega as Minister of the Interior. The removal of Quintanilla from the Interior and the appointment of Pedro Lascurain to the post of Foreign Minister, which he filled under President Madero, have been discussed.

Owing to the presence of the town of Orizaba, by the rebels and the consequent threatening of communications between the Federal capital and Vera Cruz, foreigners are flocking to the coast in large numbers as they see the possibility of being bottled up in Mexico City. Every train to Vera Cruz is loaded to the capacity.

Col. Hamner, in command of the garrison at Orizaba is fortifying the strategic point about the city and reports to the Government that he will be able to resist any attack by the rebels. A battle is reported to have been fought yesterday at Arrio de Rosales, in the State of Michoacan, between fifty Federal soldiers and 500 rebels. The rebels are said to have withdrawn from the field after three hours' fighting, leaving behind them twenty-two dead and many wounded, while only one Federal is reported to have been killed.

WILSON AND CABINET PLAN MEXICAN MOVES; NO BLOCKADE DECISION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—President Wilson and the Cabinet met today and discussed latest phases of the Mexican situation. Overnight developments apparently brought no change, but keen interest was shown in the organization of the new Mexican Congress. Some officials were inclined to believe that they would heed the warning of the United States and take no action on concessions.

Talk of a blockade of Mexican ports was revived, but high officials said such a step had not been determined upon. Many moves are under consideration, but foremost advisers of the Administration are counselling patience, while the Constitutionals pursue their campaign.

AFFAIRS GROWING WORSE IN MEXICO, BRITISH PRESS VIEW.

Copyright, 1913, by The Press Publishing Co., London, Eng. (Special Cable News to The Evening World.)

LONDON, Nov. 18.—While admitting that there are signs that President Wilson's policy is not without effect on Mexican capital, the Times in an editorial today says:

"The whole situation is manifestly growing worse. The Washington Government may have good grounds for their trust that it will soon become better, but they are keeping any grounds of the kind which they possess very carefully to themselves. They are still optimistic, and that is the one reason why outside observers like ourselves remain to be pessimistic or think that things are as black as they look."

SEARCH AT JUAREZ FOR CHICAGO EX-ALDERMAN

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 18.—What has been the fate of Joseph M. Francis, former Alderman of Chicago and one-time President of the Automobile Club of that city, was a question that Constitutional authorities in Juarez were unable to answer early today.

Francis, who has been absent from Chicago since last May, was supposed to have come to Juarez from Terasas on the troop train that carried Villa's troops to attack that city early Saturday morning. That he did not reach El Paso seems certain.

TAMICO CAPTURED BY MEXICAN REBELS

GALVESTON, Texas, Nov. 18.—Tamico, Mexico, has fallen into the hands of Mexican Constitutionalists, according to an unconfirmed wireless message received here last night. The message was believed to have been relayed to Galveston through the steamer Minnetonka. An official of a fruit transporting company doubted the correctness of the message.

IN FEAR OF INSANITY, KILLS HIMSELF.

Fearing insanity from loss of sleep through ill health, Frederick Schweikert, forty-five, a laborer, committed suicide this morning in a furnished room at No. 32 East Forty-second street by inhaling gas. Schweikert left a letter explaining his act and asking that his brother, Harry Schweikert of No. 121 Bloomfield avenue, Bloomfield, N. J., be notified.

WHITMAN SENDS MEN UP STATE FOR GRAF WITNESSES

They Will Subpoena Canal and Highway Contractors From Albany Westward.

M'GUIRE TO TELL MORE.

His Attorney Says He Has Sufficiently Recovered to Go on Stand To-Morrow.

Two subpoena servers from the District-Attorney's office started up-State on the Empire State express today, armed with a grappleful of subpoenas. They will stop off at Albany to confer with Assistant District-Attorney Clark, who has been there looking up records in the State Engineer's Department, the State Comptroller's Department and the office of the Secretary of State, and also to serve some of the subpoenas on contractors on highways and canal jobs who make their headquarters in Albany.

From Albany the subpoena servers will proceed westward, picking up contractors in Utica, Rochester, Syracuse and Buffalo. All these contractors will be brought to New York and will testify either in the John Doe proceedings before Chief Magistrate McAdoo or before the Grand Jury concerning campaign contributions they are alleged to have made under duress to the Democratic and Republican State Committees.

M'GUIRE IN SHAPE TO GO ON STAND TO-MORROW.

Henry A. Wise, counsel for George H. McGuire of Syracuse, who collapsed on the witness stand in the John Doe hearing ten days ago, called at the District-Attorney's office today and said that McGuire, who has been kept in seclusion in an uptown hotel, will be in shape to testify when the hearing is resumed to-morrow. Mr. Whitman wants to get all McGuire's evidence on the record, but has not decided whether to call him or to use other witnesses before Chief Magistrate McAdoo. He is thinking of suspending the John Doe hearings and conducting the examination entirely before the Grand Jury.

McGuire has been at the Hotel St. Andrew, Seventy-second street and Broadway, since he was confronted on the witness stand with a telegram sent from Syracuse which confirmed statements made by John A. Hennessy. He had been staying at the Belmont previous to that time.

Right after his collapse he was hustled to the St. Andrew, where he was joined by his wife, who has remained with him constantly. He has not ventured out of the hotel, but has been seen in the lobby a couple of times. So far as is known he has not been visited by the District-Attorney or any member of the District-Attorney's staff.

Everett P. Fowler, the Kingston lawyer, sometimes called "Murphy's up-State bagman," was arraigned yesterday on the indictment charging him with extortion and released on $5,000 bail. He was expected to confer with Mr. Whitman before he was arraigned, but would fight to the last ditch. Martin W. Littleton was retained as his counsel.

SURETY COMPANY PUTS UP $5,000 BOND.

The bond was furnished by a representative of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company. George H. McGuire, whose conversations with John A. Hennessy brought about the indictment of Fowler, is representative of the company in Syracuse, and has bonded for the company most of the contractors on the highways and canal in that section of the State.

Littleton at once attacked the indictment and moved for inspection of the Grand Jury minutes. He asserted that the indictment was not legal, that this court lacked jurisdiction and sets aside the indictment and the proceedings.

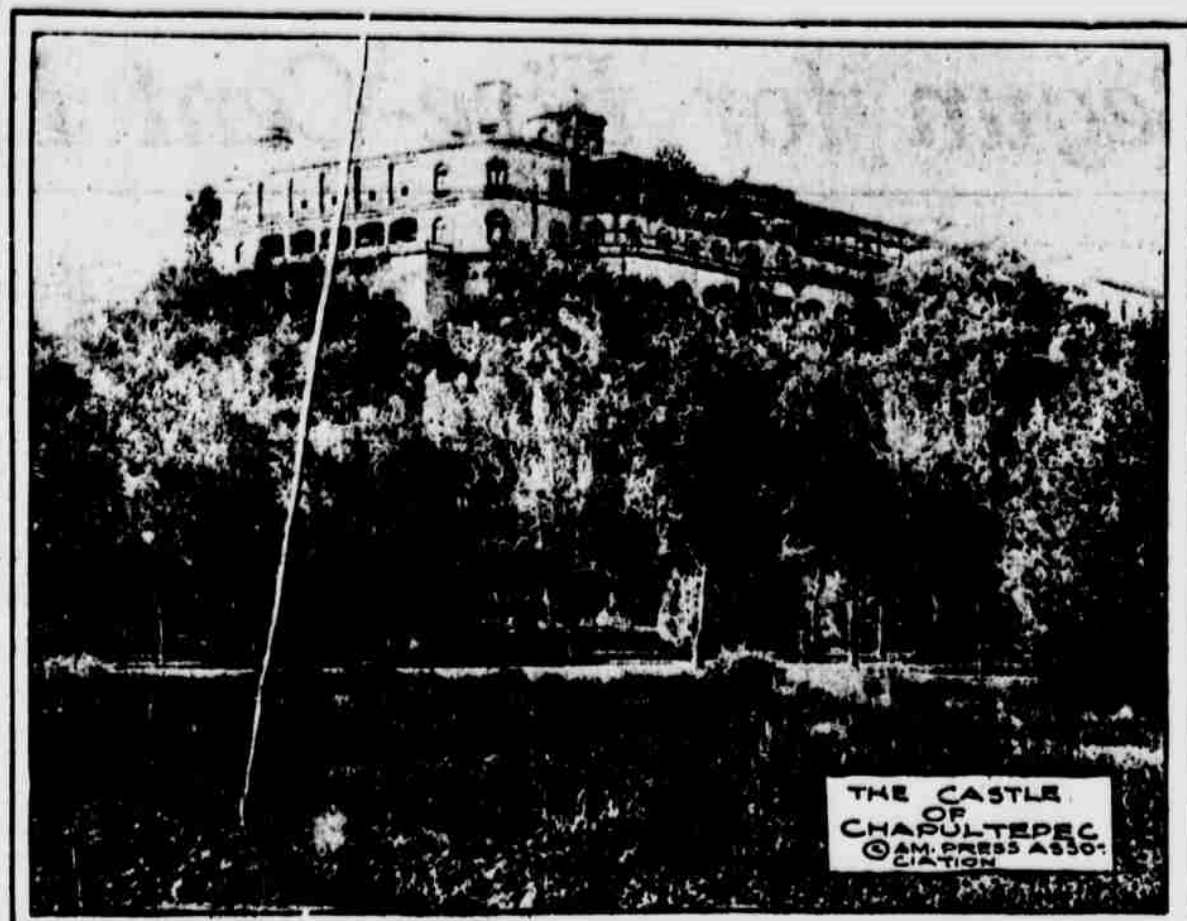

BARNES IS STILL BOSS.

Undisturbed by Demand for Elimination by Young Republicans. Republican State Chairman Barnes was asked today if he had anything to say concerning the action taken last night in Prince George Hotel by the New York Young Republican Club, which adopted resolutions to the effect that the elimination of Barnes was necessary to the success of the party.

"I cannot talk about a resolution which I have not seen," said Mr. Barnes. "The text of the resolutions is unknown to me. Even what I read in the papers there was much talk at the meeting in the Prince George about personal liberty. It is very noticeable that the gentlemen so vociferous about personal liberty seemed unwilling to permit me to express my ideas and speak in my own defense."

AUTO THIEVES ADMIT STEALING FIVE CARS TO SELL ACCESSORIES

Machines Burned After Being Stripped of Tires, Speedometers and Other Fittings.

The arrest of three men who, according to Detectives Donahue, O'Neill and Galvin, admit the theft of five automobiles gave the police their first satisfactory insight to-day into the methods of the automobile thieves who have been exasperating car owners and garage men in this city for months. The touring car of Jacob Schwartz of No. 730 Riverside Drive was stolen from in front of his home Sunday night. Detective Donahue heard that Joseph Nelson, a janitor, of No. 819 West Ninety-third street, might know something of the matter.

Nelson, when accused, said that he and Galvin, admit the theft of five automobiles gave the police their first satisfactory insight to-day into the methods of the automobile thieves who have been exasperating car owners and garage men in this city for months. The touring car of Jacob Schwartz of No. 730 Riverside Drive was stolen from in front of his home Sunday night. Detective Donahue heard that Joseph Nelson, a janitor, of No. 819 West Ninety-third street, might know something of the matter.

While Donahue was waiting Nelson and Lyons walked in. They backed against the wall of the hall when they saw the detective's revolver. O'Neill and Galvin followed them closely.

The three admitted, the detective said, that they had stolen the Schwartz car and had taken it over the Port Lee Ferry. They asked a policeman on the New Jersey side of the Hudson where they could find a garage. He climbed aboard, gave road directions and piloted them to the Edison motor station. Feeling that he was unpleasantly accommodating, they threw him into the road and speeded into the Bergen County wilderness, not halting when the policeman fired two shots after them. They abandoned the car after stripping it.

The trio also confessed that they had stolen a taxicab and three touring cars, one of which was owned by William Jacobus of No. 724 Riverside Drive. If they had time, they said, they burned the stolen cars before abandoning them, because there was no way of tracing stolen accessories, while the car itself might easily leave a back trail troublesome to the thieves.

MORE CHAUFFEURS HELD.

Federal Officers on Trail of Six Other Mail Van Drivers.

The Federal authorities today took another long step toward rounding up the eighteen former mail drivers accused of conspiring to obstruct the movement of mail in this city when three more members of the Mail Chauffeurs' Union were arrested and returned before Judge Hand. The new prisoners are John O'Hara, Andrew Fresano and George Canning.

The capture of Fresano is considered one of the most important yet made, as the authorities consider it likely that before their investigation is complete he will be involved in more serious charges than are contained in the indictment already found against him and seventeen of his fellow members of the union, named in the blanket indictment, have yet to be apprehended. As was the case with the other prisoners, the three taken today were held in $5,000 bail for trial, in default of which they were committed to the Tombs.

Becher and Duffy Draw. (Special to The Evening World.)

SYRACUSE, Nov. 18.—Jimmy Duffy and Willie Becher boxed ten rounds to a draw last night. Becher displayed great cleverness at close range, but Duffy's left jab and heavy cross counters enticed him to a draw.

TANGO GOT HIM, SO HE COULDN'T LEAVE THE SEA

Took Each Voyage to Recover From the Other—Glad to Land Once More.

Aboard the Red Star liner Kroonland when the steamship docked this morning was young Marshall Jones, late of Pittsburgh, but more recently of the broad Atlantic. He could scarcely wait for the gangplank to be thrown out so he could get ashore and he breathed a sigh of relief when his feet trod the firm plank of the pier.

"Thank heaven!" he exclaimed. "If I can help it I'll never set foot on a liner again. I've sailed the sea now for three months, first one way and then the other, until I began to think I'd have to live out the rest of my life on a steamship."

"The tango and the turkey trot caused the whole trouble. I had a nervous breakdown three months ago and they sent me to sea for the good of my nerves. I was all right for a couple of days, but when I got over being seasick and discovered the smoking room was very busy. As a result I was so much worse when I hit the other side that I had to come back."

"They had a turkey trot on the homebound ship, and I landed here a shadow of my former self. Nothing for it but to turn back and get the benefit of a sea voyage. Same story, though. I kept getting worse each trip I made. I've sailed on pretty near every blamed ship going out of this port. Why, I call most of the captains by their first names now, and instead of getting better, I don't believe I'd last another month. Taking a sea voyage once again is the hardest work I ever did."

"I'm going down to Philadelphia now and buying a nice seventy-two-foot yacht. A chap abroad told me about it. And then I'm going to get some congenial friends and cruise around the South seas. And there won't be anyone who can tango or turkey trot on board, either."

ABANDONS BOND ISSUE?

New Haven Said to Be Planning $40,000,000 Loan Instead.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 18.—It was authoritatively reported here this afternoon that the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad has abandoned the plan for the big bond issue. The report goes that the New Haven will arrange for a $40,000,000 loan to meet obligations on Dec. 1.

TO END JEWELRY TRUST.

Government Files Suit and Defendants Will Foretell Court Action.

The bill of complaint in the Government anti-trust suit against the National Wholesale Jewelers' Association and other defendants, which was drawn up by Assistant United States District Attorney Claude E. Thompson in September last, was filed today in the United States District Court. It is understood that the defendants, in their answer, will admit the allegations made by the Government and that a voluntary dissolution of the combination will follow.

HAMMERSTEIN MUST PAY HIS DAUGHTERS THEIR $100 A WEEK

Court of Appeals Upholds His Divorce Contract With Dead Wife.

ALBANY, Nov. 18.—Oscar Hammerstein, the New York impresario, today lost a case of his daughters in the Court of Appeals.

Several years ago Mrs. Hammerstein sued him for divorce and they entered into an agreement that he should pay her $100 a week for life and their two daughters $100 each a week for life after her death. He assigned shares of his amusement company stock as security. When his wife died he refused to pay his daughters and brought a replevin suit in which a New York trust company, which held the stock, was made defendant. Hammerstein lost in the lower court and then appealed it.

All the Judges concurred in the opinion, which was written by Chief Judge Cullen. He held that Mrs. Hammerstein thought her husband would carry out her agreement after her death, else she would have asked for enough money at the time of her divorce suit to insure support of her children after her death.

DEMAND $557,775 TO FINISH STEINWAY TUNNEL

Public Service Commission Opens Bids for Completion of Tube Already Built.

Bids were opened today by the Public Service Commission for the construction of the Queens extension of the Steinway Tunnel. The tunnel is already constructed between a point in Forty-second street, near Lexington avenue, Manhattan, under the East River to Long Island City, near the intersection of Jackson and Van Alst avenues.

The extension for which the bids were received is from the present terminus in Long Island City to the Queensboro Bridge Plaza, where a connection will be made with the Astoria and Corona elevated railroads.

It is the intention to make the extension partly subway and partly elevated. It will be through the North Shore yard of the Long Island Railroad and through Davis street and Ely avenue to the Queensboro Bridge approach. It will be a two track line.

The lowest bid was submitted by the Deegan Contracting Company of No. 60 Wall street. It was $557,775.

M'COMBS WOULDN'T SERVE.

Judge Edward F. O'Dwyer Nominated for Club President.

William F. McCombs denied today that he intended resigning from the chairmanship of the National Democratic Committee.

He said there had been some discussion as to whether or not he would become President of the National Democratic Club. The nomination committee named Judge Edward F. O'Dwyer. It is understood Mr. McCombs could not find the time to devote to this office.

These nominations were made for other offices of the National Democratic Club: First Vice-President, ex-Senator William A. Clark; Second Vice-President, Herman A. Metz; Treasurer, Milo I. D. Sistrup; Secretary, William H. Jasper; Corresponding Secretary, John J. Quinn; Board of Governors, Hanslocher, John M. Riehl, Thomas F. Smith, John H. Campbell, John F. O'Brien and Charles S. Guggenheim.

SCREECH OWL PAYS DEATH PENALTY AFTER IT DINES ON CANARY

Rids Central Park Aviary of Mice—Is Doomed for Slaying Yellow Bird.

A little gray screech owl which had ridden the bird house in Central Park of mice was today shot and killed because it devoured one of the canaries from South America.

Three weeks ago Donald Burns, keeper of the bird house, was at his wits' end how to rid that house of a number of destructive rodents by which it was frequented. The problem was unsolved when the little screech owl made its appearance, flying late one afternoon, through the open door from out of the dusk. The next morning Burns found unmistakable evidence that several mice had been killed. A week elapsed and the bird house was free of the rodents.

This morning Burns found blood-stained yellow feathers scattered on the floor of the bird house near the canary cage. One of the little birds from South America was missing. Suspicion immediately fell on the owl, which Burns knew, was hard pressed for food. The keeper saw the possibility of the other canaries being drawn through the coarse wire netting of their cage and devoured and laid the whole matter before "Bill" Snyder, head keeper of the park. He was instructed to capture the owl, if possible, and to shoot it if necessary.

After an hour and a half spent in a vain attempt to catch the bird, Burns called in Bob Hurton, a keeper in the lion house and reputed to be the sharpshooter of the menagerie. One shot sufficed. The Museum of Natural History became the possessor of all that remained of the bird which had rendered such valuable service.

SCENE SET FOR TRIAL OF HANS SCHMIDT

Priest to Begin Fight for Life To-morrow, and Insanity Plea Is Likely.

The trial of Hans Schmidt, the confessed murderer of Anna Ammueller, will begin to-morrow before Judge Foster in General Sessions. Assistant District-Attorney Delahanty will conduct the prosecution. Schmidt will be defended by former Judge Wm. M. K. Olcott, Terence J. McLaughlin and Alphonse Koelbe.

The report of the commission which has taken testimony in Germany regarding Schmidt's sanity before he came to this country will arrive to-morrow on the Madison. Assistant District-Attorney Deacon Murphy will arrive early next week with information regarding Schmidt which he has been collecting abroad.

A motion by Mr. Koelbe for the appointment of another commission to take additional testimony in Germany was denied by Judge Foster to-day. A special panel of 20 laymen has been summoned for the trial.

CAUGHT IN AUTO WITH DYNAMITE AND RIFLE

Says Arsenal Belonged to the Man Who Escaped—Car Wrongly Numbered.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 18.—A high-powered automobile going at a lively clip through this city fell into the hands of the police last night. In it they found Dan Reilly, who is twenty-six and suspiciously reticent, a stick of dynamite, a magazine rifle and a fine kit of safe-opening tools. Reilly said they belonged to a stranger who was with him in the automobile and who escaped after State Motor Vehicle Inspector Harry M. Shedd took both Reilly and his pal to a garage.

The inspector found a wrong number on the car and also learned that it did not belong to Reilly, who says he was engaged to take the man who escaped to Lakewood. He is being held, and the New York police will be notified.

Cohen's Dismissal Legal.

ALBANY, Nov. 18.—The dismissal of Clarence M. Cohen by the Governing Committee of the New York Stock Exchange was upheld today by the Court of Appeals. He asserted that he had been unseated as a result of passion and prejudice. Hanson H. Thomas, president of the Exchange, was made the defendant.

IDA VAN CLAUSSEN IS DECLARED INSANE

Alienists Report and Woman Who Threatened Lawyer Is Remanded.

Ida van Clausen, who once sued ex-President Roosevelt for $1,000,000 damages for not having her introduced to the King of Sweden, was declared insane today in a report submitted to Judge Malone, in General Sessions, by Dr. Carlos F. McDonald and Dr. William Mahon, insanity experts, who figured in the Thaw case.

Following the receipt of this report, Judge Malone rescinded his order allowing Mrs. van Clausen's release on $5,000 bail in the blackmail case against her, and ordered her remanded to the Tombs without bond.

In pursuance of Judge Malone's action, Justice Seabury, in the Supreme Court, refused to grant Mrs. van Clausen a writ of habeas corpus for which the defendant has been fighting for some days. Mrs. van Clausen's troubles are the result of a letter which she wrote to Attorney Charles Strauss, formerly of her counsel, in which she threatened to kill him if he did not get her what she considered a valid divorce. Following her indictment her brother made application to Judge Malone for an insanity commission.

The report of the insanity experts will be read before Judge Malone Thursday afternoon, and Mrs. van Clausen will have the opportunity to defend herself against the insanity accusation.

BROWN RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT OF CENTRAL LINES

helped the station agent at Thompson and in the evenings and on Sundays when it rained too hard for track work he studied telegraphy.

In 1910, with immense assurance, for he was but seventeen and his hands were calloused from section work, he applied for and got the job of operator at Chicago City, Ia. In 1910 he went to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad to begin an uninterrupted service of twenty-five years.

Starting as a despatcher Mr. Brown went right along up the line until in 1911 he became superintendent of the Iowa line at Burlington, Ia. He was holding that position when the great engineers' strike on the Burlington system happened in 1911.

One day the Fast Mail came into Burlington from the west. The engineer stepped down from his cab and walked away. The fireman followed suit.

Summoning a couple of clerks from his office to act as "go-bys," Mr. Brown climbed aboard the motive, pushed the lever over, pulled out the throttle and started away. At Galesburg, Ill., forty-three miles away, an engineer was found to finish the run to Chicago. The Burlington system was back to work.

In 1901 Mr. Brown entered the New York Central service as Vice-President and General Manager of the Lake Shore, with headquarters at Cleveland, O. He came to New York in February, 1903, as Vice-President in charge of operation and maintenance of the New York Central and Hudson river Railroad. In February, 1909, Mr. Brown took up the duties he is to relinquish on the first of the year, comprising the supervision of over 12,000 miles of railroad and an army of more than 150,000 employees. He also directed the electrification of the lines in and near New York and the construction of the new Grand Central Station.

Benefit for Hospital Chapel.

A charity benefit for the Catholic chapel of the Metropolitan Hospital, Blackwell's Island, will be held Nov. 20, in Terrace Garden Theatre, Fifty-eighth street, near Third avenue. There will be professional vaudeville by the White Rat and dancing. Tickets can be obtained from the Rev. Thomas Cryan, S. J., chaplain, Metropolitan Hospital, Blackwell's Island.

Novelist's Wife in Hospital.

Mrs. Tipton Sinclair, wife of the novelist, was today operated upon in the Woman's Hospital in West One Hundred and Ninth street by Dr. J. Riddle Goffe. The operation was said at the hospital to be entirely successful. Three months ago while Mrs. Sinclair was returning from Europe she slipped on the deck of the steamer. The fall affected Mrs. Sinclair's spine.
